Drifting away.

In the Eye, a periodical publicaters written by "Robert Rustic," from Philadelphia to a friend (" Jeremiah Listless,") in the West, apbe read with interest and believe me, my dear friend, this he tuned up and went straight is no easy task. I consider it is as through with it with the gravity o difficult as the most complicated a parish clerk.—Beeton's Home piece of architecture. In architecture, we have the Corinthian, Doric. and Gothie, and other orders to describe, but in the dress here I see no order at all, and, in fact, the order which nature was pleased to give the ladies is distorted, squeezed and pressed out of all order. You may however, form a tolerable idea of the nondescript, heterogenous architecture of dress of these ladies comparing to your near neighbors, the Indians; like them they appear to have a partiality for red, inso-much that some not only wear red slippers and dresses, but daub their faces after the manner of those savages; their ears, like those of the Photograph Albums, Indians, are hung with a profusion of curiously-formed rings, and their necks with beads. Like the Indians, they load their heads with a vast variety of fantastical, undefinable ornaments; and lastly, like them, they are indifferent with respect to concealing certain parts, as their arms, osoms, etc. I cannot say if, from the similarity of dress, we may deduce that the natures of the Indians and the Philadelphia ladies resemble each other, but I have discovered a than Indian! But the Indian ladies differ from the ladies of Philadelphia, in that the former are remarkably mute and exceedingly modest, and you never hear more than one of them speak at a time, but the latter (and I am told it is the same in every polite part of the world) are indefatigably loqua-cions. I have often heard a dozen at the same time indulging themselves in most vehement verbose elocution, to the great annoyance of my ear. This they call tea party chit-chat. If they are admitted to debate on the more important affairs of State what an uproar would there be in Congress Hall; one might as well, in my opinion, be in Vulcan's thunderbolt manufactory as among them. They also differ in other respects from your neighbors. The male sex among the Indians maintain their dignity by holding in absolute subjection the females, but here in many instances the females

When we take a superficial or outward view of their heads, we see what they call bonnets, of indefinable and variable figures, many of which are three feet or more in circumference, hung with ribbons, etc. A correct description of the shape of some of them is absolutely impossible, but if you form to yourself an idea of the figure all the figures of Euclid jumbled together would make, then you have as good an idea of them as myself. This massive bonnet gives great weight, dignity, and magnitude to the head; and when I see a lady tripping along the street with one on, it puts me in mind of a new hatched partridge running about the field with an eggshell sticking to its head larger than its body. Their combs, I judge from the measure of one I took with my thumb as I staggered under it from a tea party, must be from six to ten inches wide, and proportionately long. Their ears are stretched to a dangerous length by ear-rings of an enormous size, the hair frizzled and curled in every shape. Their bodies they squeeze out of all shape except the fashionable shape, by elastic corsets and handages.

In another letter from Philadel phiathe same writer says: In a part of the world so refined and so famous for religion and piety as Philadelphia, I supposed that every species of gambling would be effectually suppressed, but no such thing; there are one hundred billiard tables within the knowledge of Billy Flash, and wedoubt there are three times as rany. At thirteen years of age he had a caronic diarram and scrofula, for which I gave him your Sarsara, its. Ir cound him. I have for ten years recommended it to many in New York. Ohio and lowa, for scrofula, forur sores, and general deblity. Perfect success has attended it. The cures effected in some cases of scrofula and fewer sores were almost miraculous, I am very anxious for my son to again have reconrise to your Sarsaparilla. He is fearful of getting a spurious article, hence his writing to you for it. His wounds were terrible but I believe he will recover.

CHILLS AND F edies ever offered to the public for the saire, seriain, speedy and permanent care of Ages and Fever, or Chills and Vever, whether of short or long standing. He refers to the camer Western and South-western country to bear him testimony to the truth of the meetion, that in no case whatever will it fail to cure, if the directions are strictly followed and carried out. In a great many cases a thingle does has been sufficients for a cure and whole families have been cured by single bottle, with a perfect restoration of general health. It is, however, prudent, and in every case more cortain to cure, if its use is continued in smaller does for a week or two after the disease has been thecked, more expectally in difficult and long standing cases. Usually this medicine will not require any aid to keep the bowsis in good order; should the palical however, require a cathartis medicine, after having taken three or four does of the Towie, a single dose of BULL'S Principal Offica:

OPPOSITE THE Bull's Worm Destroyer. Maxwell House & Post Office.

I have received many testimonials from pro-fessional and medical men, as my almaless and various publications have shown, all but which are genuine. The following letter from a highly educated and popular physician in Georgia, is certainly one of the most sensi-hle communications I have ever received. Dr. Clement knows exactly what he speaks of and his testimony deserves to be written in words of gold. Hear what the Poeter says of But-6.2 WORN DESTROYER:

DR. JOHN BULL—Dear Sir: I have recently given your "Worm Destroyer" several trials and find it wonderfully efficacions. It has not failed in a single instance to have the wished for effect. I am doing a pretty large country practice, and have daily use for some ar itele of the kind. I am free to confess that I know of no remedy recommended by the allest authors that is so certain and speedy in its effects. On the contrary they are uncertain in the extreme. My object in writing you is to find out upon what terms I can get the medicine directly from you. It lean get the medicine directly from you. It lean get the medicine directly from you. It lean get it upon easy terms, I shall use a great deal of it. I am aware that the use of such articles is contrary to the teachings and practice of a great majority of the Engular line of M. D.'s, but I see no just cause or good-sense in discarging a remety which we know to be efficient, simply because we may be ignorant of tecombination. For my part, I shall make it. Yuleto use all and any means to alleviate suffer a phumanity which I may be able to command—not besitating because some one more ingenious than myself may have learned its effects first, and secured the sole right to secure that knowledge. However, I am by no means an advocate or supporter of the thousands worthless nestrums that floodithe country, that purport to cure all manner of discase to which human feet is heir. Dm. John Bull. Dear Sir: Knowing in efficiency of your Sarsaparilla, and the healing and beneficial qualities it possesses, I send you the following statement of my case:

I was wounded about two venrs ago—was taken prisoner and confinest for sixteen mouths. Being moved so often, my wounds have not healed yet. I have not sat up a moment since I was wounded. I am shot through the hips. My general health is impaired, and I need something to mosts stature. I have more faith in your Sarsaparilla than anything else. I wish that that was genuine. Please express me half a dozen bottles, and oblige Carr. C.P. JOHNSON, Louis, Mo.
